JIMMIE O'CONNELL MAKES STATEMENT

"Thought Whole Team In On the Deal," Says Disgraced Giant Player, Who Attempted to Bribe the Philadelphia Shortstop

SAYS HE WAS THE "GOAT"

O'Connell, Banished From Organized Baseball, Gives Names of Others Alleged In On the Deal, But These Players Have Been Cleared

New York, October 2—A wistful and boyish figure, "Jimmy" O'Connell, young outfielder, who was thrown out of organized baseball by Commissioner K. M. Landis for offering a bribe to a player on the Philadelphia team showed up at the club house at the Polo grounds today declaring he had been made "the goat in this business."

O'Connell said he was reporting for work as usual because he had received no official or unofficial notice that he and Coach Cozy Dolan had been placed on the ineligible list.

A forlorn figure, a youngster from the Pacific coast, who had won a place for himself in the affection of the young baseball rooters, told how he tried to bribe Heine Sand, Philly's shortstop, to "throw" last Saturday's game, and he insisted that he thought the entire team was in on the deal

Now he finds himself an outcast, disgraced, and left behind while his teammates go down to Washington for the World series in which he hoped to star. O'Connell's story of the attempted bribe was as follows:

"The subject first came up Saturday morning when Cozy and I were in the club house Dolan said to me, 'Jimmy, do you know Sands well,' and I replied, 'Yes, I do, he and I have been friends for years. Both of us are from California, and while we've

Dr. Glass Finds Local Schools Are Efficient

Dr. James M. Glass, director of Junior High Schools for the Department of Public Instruction at Harrisburg, was in Charleroi yesterday inspecting the Junior High School. He made a thorough inspection, visiting all the rooms, going over the plans and after the dismissal of school met with the teaching corps and not only complimented them on their methods but also offered [illegible] in which to improve them. Dr. Glass was highly pleased, and was greatly surprised with Charleroi's up-to date and efficient schools.

Dr. Glass was a guest of the Rotarians yesterday at their regular meeting held at the Elks club, as was also Dr. Henry W. Temple. Both men gave interesting talks along educational lines that were greatly enjoyed and appreciated

FARMERS ARE URGED TO JOIN ASSOCIATION

At the meeting of the Washington County Farmers' Allied Protective association, which is composed of delegates from the various District Farm Protective associations of the county, to be held at the public meeting room of the court house on Saturday, October 4, at 10 a. m., several matters of special interest will be brought up.

The call for the meeting states that among the subjects to be considered will be 'the tax burden and the extravagance of local tax spenders When road and school taxes have increased on some farms in the county as much as 1,600 percent in 20 years and investigators tell us that 90 per cent of all taxes on farm lands is locally spent, the roads and schools getting most of it, then we must look to the proper expenditure of the money levied for these purposes to guard against extravagance. The justice of the eminent domain law has been questioned: hunters are not only trespassers, the corporations not only trespass upon your property, but

MEETING OF CHURCH FOLK INTERESTING AND BENEFICIAL

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society held yesterday afternoon in the Methodist Episcopal church, was largely attended. The president, Mrs. T. F. Lindsay, presided at the meeting which was an unusually interesting one. Mrs. J. M. Hill, took as her devotional topic, "Stewardship of Giving." This discussion was followed by reports, given by the delegates on two conventions recently held. Mrs. Ben Harris and Mrs. A. H. Bosson gave interesting talks on the Washington district convention the Women's Foreign Missionary society held at McDonald. Mrs. [illegible] Tetbush and Mrs. T. L. Pollock gave pleasing reports of the Pittsburgh Conference convention of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society Mrs Earl A Nicholson delighted her listeners with a vocal solo, having as her accompanist, Mrs. George C. Fetty.

Instead of taking up the study of the year entitled "Mary Kang," as was [illegible] many, a stewardship demonstration was presented. "Which is Yours?" under the direction of Mrs A. H. Bosson. Three different types of missionary societies were cleverly represented, namely: First, Richley Avenue Auxiliary: second, Raizet Auxiliary, and third Auxiliary from the Stewart church. The various parts were finely portrayed by Mesdames Bosson, T. L. Pollock, D. M. Provins, J. W. Forman, Bruce Barnett, John S. Land, H. C. Terbush, E. J. LaTour, and H. E. Price. The latter example was unanimously chosen as the best one and every effort will be made to conduct the local society in the same manner.

At the conclusion of the program, luncheon was served by the hostesses, Mrs. T. P. Miller, Mrs Frank Johns, Mrs Lindsay, Mrs. Harry Williams, Mrs Mary Lutes and Mrs. Terbush

MANY VISIT THE G. O. P. ROOMS AT THEIR OPENING

The Republican headquarters in the Bank of Charleroi & Trust Company building were visited by a number of people yesterday afternoon and evening, where they were cordially received by Postmaster S. D. R. Hill and Mrs. Victor P Vieslet. Mrs. John N O'Neil and Miss Minnie B. Richardson assisted in the reception of visitors.

In the afternoon and evening Congressman Henry W. Temple was greeted by many of the voters, both ladies and gentlemen. Mr. Temple is sanguine of the success of the Coolidge-Dawes ticket, but desired to impress on the minds of those who greeted him the importance of their casting their ballots next month.

J. Edgar Masters was unable to be present and some of the other county officials looked for, as well; but Postmaster Hill said that he expects them to come here at a later date. In subsequent issues of the Mail we will be able to announce the list of speakers, and when they will hold forth in meetings to be held here

SECURES WRIT OF MANDAMUS

David Bier of Donora has secured a writ of mandamus upon Charles H. Ford, a justice of the peace of that borough, in a suit in which Ira B Walker and others, are plaintiffs, and Bier, the defendant.

In this action judgment was given against Mr. Bier in the sum of $3.52. He avers that he has endeavored to effect an appeal but that the justice has refused to give him a transcript of the proceedings before him. The writ on the justice is returnable on Wednesday, October 8.

The action is an unusual one. It is understood that the claim against Mr. Bier was based on a supposed signature of his to a Chautauqua guarantee The Chautauqua had a deficit, and the guarantors were required to make up the deficiency. It is said that Mr. Bier refused to pay, and the suit was instituted.

Mr. Bier claims that he did not sign the guarantee, and that the signature attached to the guarantee is not his signature.

BIG TIME PLANNED FOR BELLE VERNON

An Event of Widespread Interest Is the Forthcoming Ninetieth Anniversary Celebration And Home-Coming of Church Folk

THROUGH WEEK OF OCT. 12

Splendid Programs For Each Evening During the Week; Also Morning And Evening of Sunday, October 19, Has Been Planned

An event of widespread interest is being planned by the Methodist Episcopal church of Belle Vernon in its ninetieth anniversary and home-coming, to be celebrated throughout the week of October 12.

Being the pioneer church organization of Belle Vernon, the town owes to it the formation of its early religious character. The first class was formed October 5, 1834, by the Rev. J. H. Ebbert, with a membership of eight This earnest and steadfast little group met at divers places, gradually increasing in numbers, and in 1841 a brick church structure was erected at the corner of Main and First streets. This building was used for a short time only, and the congregation moved into a new frame church in Water street. Outgrowing this, in 1867 the large brick church building with the tall spire in upper Main street was dedicated, and was for 41 years the place of worship, beloved and honored by this steadily growing congregation.

The growth of the town, spreading over the hilltop, finally rendered the location in Main street inconvenient for many of the members, and during the pastorate of the Rev. J. D. W. Hazeleton, a movement was begun to secure funds for the erection of a new building, more centrally located. This resulted in the construction of the beautiful and commodious structure at the corner of State and Market streets, now in use, which was dedicated in 1908. The old building, with the removal of the lofty spire, which had for so many years pointed to higher things, became first a business building and later was remodeled into an apartment house. The structure now occupied is one of which the congregation, and also the townspeople, are justly proud. It has a seating capacity of approximately 500, with well arranged Sunday School rooms, and on the lower floor,

Banquet Follows As Sequel to Series Of Baseball Games

Last night the managers and employes of the Cudahy Packing Company and the Rieck-McJunkin Ice Cream Company, met in annual banquet at the Elks club following a series of baseball games played at the close of the season by teams representative of the companies, in which the players representing the packing company were the victors. The banquet was the sequel to an agreement made, and it will be carried out annually, that the losers of the series find it compusory to banquet the victors.

At the banquet held at the Elks club last night, which was, to use an old but trite saying, "a feast of reason and flow of soul," there were probably 100 of the representatives of both companies present. This was inclusive of superintendents, managers, foremens and employes. Harry Ray officiated as toastmaster, and introduced the orators of the evening, nearly all of whom "played the series over again," i. e., the Cudahy bunch, from Manager Mitchell down, telling "how they won the series," Mr. Mitchell declaring that while the ice cream fellows had the better team the butchers "outsmarted" them. Lloyd Wagner, of the Rieck-McJunkin company, declared that the loss of the series on the part of the ice cream team was due to the inexperience of a portion of the line-up, but that they were headed for victory in 1925, without question. In connection with the speech of Superintendent Wagner, he presented to Mr. Mitchell and the team which he represents, with a beautiful silver loving cup, as a token of and emblematic of their success in the series The cup was accepted by Mr. Mitchell, who voiced his personal appreciation and that of his men in receiving the cup, but "warned Mr. Wagner that now that they had it, they were going to do their utmost to keep it." The cup will be placed in the show windows of one of the business houses of the [illegible] public.

Features of the gathering were the speeches of "Coffee" Dooley and Joe Laurie, solos by James Davies, the dancing and impersonations of the inimitable and redoubtable John McFeeley, and the greeting and talk made by Bert Mitchell, manager of the packing company. The speech of Mr. Wagner was also well received, and the gathering attested that the most cordial relations exist between all concerned.

PREACHER VERIFIED.

State police swooping down on McKees Rocks and finding evidence of booze, verified the accusation of the Rev. Albert K. Travis of that place that "wickedness does reign in McKees Rocks in violation of the dry laws."

There is little question but that the agitation of the preacher was the primeval cause for the dry agents visiting the town and making investigations. The divine's accusations were thus verified, and for his courage in proclaiming from the pulpit that the laws were being violated in McKees Rocks in the respect named, he is to be congratulated; for the Rev. Travis is a public servant as well as a minister of the gospel, and his stand for righteousness shows that he must have known what he was talking about. Another feature in connection with the sensations as they have developed is, that the Rev. Travis has the courage of his convictions let the "chips fall where they may."

While the clergy are fulfilling their mission as they see it, there are a portion of them who put policy above duty. Rev. Travis threw policy to the winds, and his stand for the right can but meet with the approval of all right-thinking and law-abiding people.

WHO IS TO BLAME?

According to report English editors were rather disappointed in the reception of the Prince of Wales in this country. They are said to seem to think that he was treated neither as a symbol of the British empire, nor as a sportsman on a private holiday, but as "a kind of cross between Valentino and Jackie Coogan." They seem to overlook the fact that the Prince did not tour this country as the future monarch of the British empire. He came, of choice, as the guests of private persons in a set of wealthy and more or less idle people who gladly welcomed the social prestige his presence conferred on them. With the exception of the crowds who tried to get a look at him about the Long Island polo grounds, the people of America, its government, its talent, its representatives of great achievement, had nothing to do with it. The Prince was privately entertained by a small circle, and by all accounts he had a good time—just the kind of a time he wanted.

There may have been some disapproval, some talk of "riotous living," some remark to the effect that the future head of this country could not live as the Prince lived while here without damage to his reputation, but none of this appeared in print, and everybody seemed to have a good word for the royal visitor. Even the critics—if critics there were—must have remembered that the Prince was young and had a right to a good time. Unquestionably it can be said that royalty was more popular in this republican country after than before his coming, and, that being so, the British editors and people ought to be fairly well satisfied.

never been on the same team we know each other well."

Then Dolan said to me, "If you can get Sand to not bear down in the game there is $500 in it for him."

"Well, the Giants are going to chip was going to come from, and he said, "Well, the Giants are going to ship in and make up the money." When he said this I answered, "Alright, Ill go and tell Sands and see what he says."

"I didn't think it was strange, because he said all other players on the team were in on it and I said to myself, if all the others are in on it, there is nothing strange about it and it's alright for me."

O'Connell then mentioned other Giant players, whom he said approached him with the same suggestion. These players have been cleared by Commissioner Landis of any connection with the affair.

New York, Oct. 2—Baseball circles were thrown in a frenzy of excitement here today by announcement that Jimmy O'Connell outfielder, and Coach Cozey Dolan of the New York Giants have been placed on the ineligible list for attempting to bribe Shortstop Heine Sand of the Philadelphia National League club to throw a game last aturday.

The game was one in which the Giants clinched the National League championship.

Announcement of the action was made by Judge Landis, czar of organized baseball. Sand was offered $500 to throw the game and refused, reporting the case to his superiors.

Baseball critics here admitted the scandal will cause the Giants to go into the world series against the Washington Senators, champions of the American League, under a considerable handicap.

Landis's action followed a two-day investigation ending with O'Connell's confession which charged that Dolan instigated the plan and sought to implicate George Kelly, first baseman; Frank Frisch, captain of the Giants, and Ross Young, outfielder. These players, however, were cleared.

New York, Oct. 2—Captain Frank Frisch, of the Giants, believes the team will not be much affected in the world series by the ineligibility of O'Connell and Dolan

"It is most unfortunate and that is all I can say," he told the United Press. "I know nothing of the matter until I was called before Commissioner Landis yesterday afternoon."

First Baseman Kelly expressed surprise when told of the action. "I have no statement to make except that to bribe a player of an opposing team has never entered my mind," he said. "I knew of nothing amiss before Landis questioned me."

CUDDY DEMARCO PRIMED FOR BOUT WITH O'BRIEN

Cuddy DeMarco will meet Pep O'Brien of Scranton over the 10-round route tonight at the Palisades rink, McKeesport, under the auspices of the Majestic club.

DeMarco was originally listed to meet Jimmy Brady of Detroit, but the latter was hurt in an automobile smashup and O'Brien was secured in his place. O'Brien is even better known in this section than Brady, and should give the Charleroi lad a hot battle. Pep has met a lot of good opponents and made most of them take second honors. He and DeMarco will weigh in at 136 pounds at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

DeMarco has trained carefully and well for Brady, and is in fine physical condition. He realizes that in O'Brien he is meeting an equal, and intends to tear into him and try to pile up an edge before the bout is very old.

In the semi-final Jack Kelly of the Tube City will oppose Scotty Raeburn of Youngstown, Ohio, they agreeing to make 120 pounds this afternoon. Jack Walley of Braddock and Ray Johnson of Irwin clash in the second number. The opener, which will get under way at 8 o'clock, brings together John Sullivan of the Tube City, a newcomer in the professional ranks, and Andy Tomaskey of Wilmerding, 119-pounders.

MICKEY WALKER KNOCKS OUT BOBBY BARRETT

Mickey Walker, welterweight champion of the world, successfully defended his title against Bobby Barrett of Clifton Heights last night when he knocked out the red-headed Bobby Barrett in the sixth round of a fast and furious fight. The knockout came after 1 minutes and 33 seconds in the sixth round, when the champion caught Barrett with a right to the jaw. The end came with a spectacular swiftness.

Walker tore out from his corner like a panther, and after they had been boxing for a minute ripped a terrific left into Bobby's midriff. This smitten man warrior doubled up like a jacknife and his knees buckled beneath him.

He tried to fall into a clinch but Walker swept another terrific right, catching Barrett flush on the jaw. He fell in a crumpled heap near a neutral corner and remained prone upon the floor for a count of eight. He arose groggy and broken, and the champion feinted him with a left and swung that terrific right again catching Barrett flush on the button. Bobby fell in an inert mass on the floor where he remained until counted out by the referee. Barrett was weak and beaten but he was by no means disgraced. In the first round he went down seven times, floored twice for a count of eight while the right hand swing just as the bell rang drove him against the ropes, where he tottered and fell in a heap. He was half dragged, half carried to his corner, where Jimmy Dougherty and the other seconds worked feverishly over him. Barrett then made a remarkable comeback and for four successive rounds fought the champion taking all that Walker could give and never once showing a sign of a pallid feather.

HARRY FAY TO MEET JACK REDDICK AT ATLANTA, GA.

Ray Fay, a brother of Harry Fay, and a gentleman who is fast forging his way to the front as a boxer of merit, has returned from Louisville, Ky., where he met with successes, and reports that his brother Harry, is to meet Jack Reddick, the Canadian light heavyweight champion at Atlanta, Ga., on October 7. The men are to weigh in at 170 pounds at 3 o'clock p. m., of that day.

Harry Fay recently met and defeated "Speedy" Sparks of Cincinnati, that city's hope in the middleweight division at Louisville, the bout being pulled off on September 29, and Mr. Fay being returned the winner after an exciting and well-contested mill.

Owing to a clause in W. P. I. A. L. bylaws, Charleroi High School loses for this season at least three boys that showed great promise of developing into real football players. Baldwin and McCrory from Fayette City and Lavery of Belle Vernon.

The ruling states that boys must attend the school in the town that their parents hold residence provided that school system offers instruction in the grades in which they belong. These boys are all freshmen and both towns have ninth grades which correspond to our first year high school, therefore they are not eligible to compete at Charleroi.

It is hoped that they will return next fall as Coach Stepanian feels that they would develop into valuable men with a little seasoning.

Principal George Gould, of Homestead High School, assured Coach Stepanian yesterday that Markowitz and Slater would not be allowed to compete with Homestead High School. This settles the rumor that they would play on Saturday. The Charleroi squad is working hard and building up a strong defense for Homestead's offense. Homestead is coached this year by Bill Campbell former Georgetown star.

Coach Stepanian held a scrimmage session Tuesday and Wednesday and Saturday will find the squad in good shape physically. Swenson is back, Shephard returned Tuesday and Crytzer's ankle is mending rapidly and he may get into the game with Homestead. Feehan is the only one who is not in uniform.

In yesterday's scrimmage Crabb, O'Brien and Shiget looked good. Sampson did some good defense work on the second team. The coach was not satisfied with the first team's showing against the second team so he scrimmaged the second and third teams for the remainder of the afternoon. Things look good for Saturday.

A Comparison; Crabb-Edwards.

The time is drawing near when the football bugs start comparing the strength of teams the ability of coaches, and the merits and faults of individual players. One comparison that is frequently made is the ability of two sterling halfbacks, Crabb of Charleroi High School and "Bus" Edwards of California High School. It is quite impossible for a fan from these two towns to agree on this subject.

Without prejudice, an attempt will be made to analyze the respective merits of these two boys. Crabb weighs in this season about 160 pounds, while Edwards has at least a ten pound advantage in weight. In the matter of speed Crabb demonstrated his superiority last Spring at the Triangular Meet where he defeated Edwards in the century dash without any training whatsoever. Crabb is equally as good a broken field runner as the up river boy and has a decided advantage as a line plunger. As a passer he is not a finished product by a long way but his punting is very good this season, as is Edwards. Where Crabb holds the greatest advantage over his California rival is on the defense. Edward cannot tackle and as a safety man would present a dangerous situation. In the California game last season when Crabb made his thrilling 95 yard run, Edwards had a clear chance to bring down the Charleroi boy with a clean tackle but elected to try to clip him. In this he failed, therefore losing the best chance his team had of stopping Crabb. Both boys are in about the same class as far as experience is concerned. Both are fighters and play clean aggressive football and while the difference in their playing ability is not great it will be a long time before the supporters of either team will be able to agree on this question.

One thing is certain, both boys would be welcome additions to any high school squad. Much interest will be shown when they meet in their annual game which is played this year at Charleroi on November 5th.

McGRAW HAS THE EDGE RELATIVE TO TWIRLERS

Given four steady pitchers, even three, any big league manager will concede himself an edge in a short series. On that score the famous John McGraw, winner of four straight National League flags and a total of 10 in his 22 years as head of the Polo Grounds forces, has upper hand on the eve of the world's series frolic in which the courageous Senators will endeavor to prove that Washington not only is the capital of hot air and politics, but the capital of baseball as well.

In the trying waning moments of the National League race when two of the Giants' best men were put out of action and two other teams were pressed so closely that so little a mishap as an error might have steered the pennant in any one of three tirections it will be recalled that McGraw's pitchers came to the rescue.

INQUEST INTO GARDNER'S DEATH OPENED TODAY

Pittsburgh, October 1.—The inquest into the death of Edward R. Gardner, 39, who was stabbed to death by his wife with an ice pick, last Saturday night, was opened today by Coroner McGregor.

Police offered as evidence a sharp-pointed ice pick and a silk shirt and undergarments bloodstained, showing a small hole made by the ice pick when Mrs. Gardner plunged it into her husband's heart after he attacked her in a quarrel.

Mrs. Gardner's confession saying she killed in self defense, was read to the coroner's jury.

MY DAUGHTER WOULD CRY AT EVERYTHING

Nervous and Irritable. By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Became Entirely Normal

Clinton, Wisconsin.—"My daughter was in a very run-down condition, and was irritable, and would cry at every little thing she was so weak and nervous. As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had helped me when I was a girl I gave it to her to build her up, and the results were all that we could wish for. I wish that every mother with growing girls would try it for these troubles girls often have. I had taken it myself before my girl was born, and she was one of the nicest babies any one could wish to have. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to women and girls and cannot praise it too highly."—Mrs. I. A. HOLFORD, Box 48, Clinton, Wisconsin.

Mothers can depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve their daughters of those troubles they so often have. They know from experience the value of the Vegetable Compound in the treatment of these complaints and many, like Mrs. Holford, give it to their daughters.

FARMERS ARE URGED TO JOIN

they take what they want of it for the purpose, claiming to do so in the interest of the public, but the main purpose is always the profit of the corporation. Electric roads, steam railroads, gas and oil pipe lines, telegraph and telephone and electric transmission lines all have the right under the law to condemn your property without your consent. This is a serious situation and is becoming more so because of the rapid extension of this dangerous and unjust privilege. Country patrons of the Bell telephone have a real grievance because of inadequate service on the overloaded multi-party lines. All these questions come under the natural province of the Farmers' Protective association, and can be remedied if sufficient interest is taken by the farmers themselves. Every farm owner in the state should join this association, which is trying to do a real service for the people who live in rural communities."

Prehistoric Wonders

Thorn lake, in eastern Oregon, has for years been thought the site of a prehistoric city. In its depths are walls, rising in geometric precision, which bisect the lake bed, and investigation has just been set afoot to learn whether their origin is from a natural cause or the work of man in years gone by.

The Spider's Thread

The thread spun by a spider is considerably more slender than the finest human hair. A scientist informs us that 10,000 threads spun by a full-grown spider will not equal in substance the size of a single hair! This is hard to believe, but nature is full of wonders of which we cannot dream.

a fully equipped kitchen, dining room and parlors.

The celebration of the nineteen anniversary of the organization, with three services on Sunday, October 12, and excellent programs for each evening during the week, also morning and evening of Sunday, October 19, has been planned by the pastor, the Rev. D. L. Headlee, assisted by the laity and congregation. Among the speakers for the occasion are Dr. Appleton Bash of Pittsburgh, Bishop John W. Hamilton of Washington, D. C., and Dr. R. B. Mansell, a missionary. Other addresses will be made by Rev. W. L. Wilkinson, associate editor of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate, and the Rev. George Grant of Pittsburgh. Grant have each held the pastorate of this church at one period of its history, and many who recall former associations with these consecrated religious leaders, will be pleased of the opportunity of again greeting them, and hearing the [illegible]

Possibly the most popular portion of the week's observance, will be the music furnished by the amplified choir on the night of Friday, October 17. The choir will render sacred cantatas, at the conclusion of which a banquet will be served. Some singers of note have been at various times members of this choir, among whom may be mentioned Walter Vaughan, popular tenor, now studying in Milan, Italy; Miss Gwynn Treasure, former soloist with M. E. church orchestra, now a student in a conservatory of music in Paris, France; and Miss Lillian Hammitt, now an instructor of music in Uniontown schools; J. I. Ling, a former member of this choir, is now in charge of the large Y. M. C. A. at Childs, Pa. Mrs. J. C. Loesel, well-known soprano, is the present soloist, delighting all with her beautiful songs at the regular church services. Miss Ethel Coady, of Monongahela, has frequently assisted with concert work with this choir, and it will be most pleasing to those who have heard her to know that she will grace the program for the coming event.
